

The Conference on Consumer Finance Law

Annual Consumer Financial Services Conference

Nov. 19-20, 2015 | Loyola University Chicago School of Law | Chicago, Illinois

About the Conference

This is a two-day conference. We believe this will maximize the use of your time, and focus our Program on only the highest quality of presentations, on the most pertinent issues.

On the first day, we will address issues common to many types of companies, or of general interest.

On the second day, we will have two separate tracks in the morning.

Track One on Day 2 will address mortgage lending and servicing issues. Track Two will address debt collection and bankruptcy issues.

We will then meet together in the afternoon for final presentations on issues of common interest.

CLE Credits to Be Provided

12 hours CLE credit of MCLE, including 1 hour of ethics, will be given to Program attendees.

Conference Facility

The Conference will be held at Loyola University Chicago School of Law's Power Rogers and Smith Courtroom, with the Track Two breakout sessions in another classroom.

About Us: Conference on Consumer Finance Law

The Conference on Consumer Finance Law (CCFL) is a non-profit organization founded in 1926 by members of the legal profession and the financial services industry to offer educational services, publications and research relating to consumer financial services law.

A Governing Committee of members establishes policies and directs the activities of the CCFL.

The CCFL publishes the Consumer Finance Law Quarterly Report, a law journal that examines legislation, regulations, court decisions and related legal developments in the consumer financial services industry.

The CCFL sponsors the Frederick Fisher Memorial Program, a debate among industry representatives, consumer advocates and government officials on a topical issue affecting consumer finance. This program is offered annually in conjunction with the American Bar Association Consumer Financial Services Committee at the spring meeting of the Business Law Section.
